

Experience Factory Transformation Driven by Digital Technology! Visit Denso's Factory Advancing Automation with "DX Human Resource Development Training (Grant Eligible)"

Denso is promoting DX to strengthen its supply chain and competitiveness in Asia, and in the 'DX Human Resource Development Training Program (supported by the Japanese government's subsidy)' aims to develop leaders who can recognize waste within the organization. Participants will use IoT to identify inefficiencies in the factory, with the goal of cultivating leaders who can independently implement automation systems and workplace improvements effectively.
This is why we're offering a factory tour to Denso's Samrong Plant, a cutting-edge facility for DX. This is a valuable chance to "see, hear, and touch" and truly experience a practical training program.
